

WESTMINSTER CRIER

Westminster - Friday 9/22/17 Update

Things are beginning to brighten up.

Heavy debris and horticultural items continue to be picked up. Please separate the debris from the horticultural (plants, shrubs, tree trimmings, mulch, etc.) as they are handled and picked up separately.

Monday should be a regular trash pickup day. Please have trash containers at curbside and normal horticultural and lighter weight items to be picked up stacked by your trash containers.

We are hoping to have major items picked up by Monday. The big rig with the claw has other obligations and will not be here long term.

The front and rear gates are now operating normally.

The boil water advisory continues in effect :-)

We are awaiting our community insurance adjustor to arrive and advise us as to what is covered and how to proceed with our insurance claim.

We still await FPL to come out and attend to downed street lights within the community.

Short term rental requirements have been temporarily relaxed in order to accommodate those residents needing temporary housing while their homes are under repair. Advice to those affected is to call a local rental agent to inquire about this service.

We have electricity, water, sewage and internet services restored (Yay) to the community.

Stay strong everyone. I leave you with a selfie - just kidding.

Al

It's been a rough week but
I made it - how about you?

Message From The ARC:

If you need to replace items damaged by the hurricane and you are using the same footprint and not changing the look of the exterior of the house, you do not need ARC permission to proceed. If you are changing the outside appearance in any way, you need to submit an ARC request. We would encourage everyone who has a Washingtonian Palm to have it removed if it hasn't already fallen during the hurricane. These palms are very susceptible to high winds and can do a lot of damage to structures when they fall. Now would be a good time to have them taken down since there are many tree companies in the community chopping up fallen trees and cleaning up. If you have these palms removed by or before October 6th, you do not need to submit an ARC request for permission. After October 6th, you must submit an ARC request. We want to extend our thoughts and sympathy to everyone who suffered considerable damage. Our community is strong and it has been very comforting to see how neighbor has been helping neighbor.
